- I enjoyed their industry categories. I thought it was really neat you could select a more general category and see subcategories to choose from.
- I think you break the onboarding flow if you try to create an account with a single digit phone number and then enter an accurate phone number
- You MUST create an account before being able to see your AI generated site
- I put in <https://hockeymonkey.com> in as my existing site. Their tool was able to:
 - Include my logo in their AI draft
 - Include videos from my existing site
 - Include generic images from my existing site
- I was somewhat underwhelmed by the number of theme options I was presented with (7)

- The option to use your company name as your website logo is unique. This is the first time I have seen it in a product and I think it works well with their themes.
- In the next step, I start editing the services I own – making my first changes to the site!
 - However, I thought this was just an onboarding – I feel like I already need content for my site to complete this step?
